

Emedia Science in association with Liverpool University, UK would like to announce a new chemistry jobs vacancy site at www.chemjobs.net. The site already lists over 200 vacancies for chemists. We invite you or your colleagues to submit their post-doc, studentships or academic staff vacancies free of charge. Registered subscribers receive a free weekly e-mail bulletin of job vacancies.

Thanks in advance

A new website has now been created which stores chemist's CVs and will be searched by companies and recruitment agencies. Personal details (contact, name) are not revealed to companies, except with your permission. If interested please see our website at www.chemrecruit.com.
